

24 Hours in Waterford: The perfect itinerary to satisfy all 5 senses

SIP

Afternoon tea should always include a short ferry ride to a castle on an island, right? Located on an estuary of the River Suir just one mile down river from Waterford City, Waterford Castle was the ancestral home of the Fitzgerald Family for 800 years. An extensive refurbishment has brought the Castle into more modern times, with lodging, gardens and the most charming afternoon tea.

The perfect stop for a relaxing break, Waterford Castle Afternoon Tea takes place in The Conservatory overlooking the formal gardens and the Island's grounds. Afterwards, warm yourself by the open fire in the Castle's original Entrance Hall, adorned with the Fitzgerald Family Crest.
